REDSTONE LAKE CLAIMS FIRST 1974 VICTIM

One drowns, four saved
as boat swamps

A former Haliburton resident, 21 year-old Dennis John Kingston, of Don Mills, drowned in 36 degree water in Redstone Lake near Minister's Point last Saturday evening.

Kingston and four companions, all formerly of Haliburton, had been fishing off East Bay and were returning to the landing at Highway 519 when their 11 ft. 6 in. aluminum craft suddenly swamped and capsized.

All five men struck for shore in the icy water, but four soon turned back. One, Terrence Cowen, however, succeeded in swimming the 275 feet to shore where he climbed over a large hill to contact other fishermen warning themselves nearby. These men then took their boat to the scene where they rescued three of the remaining four men.

The rescued fishermen, Ron Ferris, Brian Robertson and Dennis Byers of Toronto had been in the near-freezing water for almost three quarters of an hour.

Kingston, meanwhile had told his friends he couldn't hang on any longer, then tried once again to swim to shore. OPP Constable Roy Telford of the Minden Detachment, together with Roger Hunter, a resident of Redstone Lake, discovered the deceased man's body only twenty feet from shore in about eight feet of water.

Kingston was interred at Evergreen Cemetery, Haliburton Tuesday.

Restructuring guidelines

TORONTO - Ontario government guidelines for county restructuring are being sent to municipalities in the province.

In an accompanying letter Treasurer John White says the province will provide assistance in establishing study guidelines, employing commissioners and in paying for the study.

While the government has adopted a policy for county restructuring, Mr. White said the commissioner's recommendations on the final study report will be his personal observations and will not bind anyone to a specific action.

A program for county restructuring was first suggested by Mr. White last October and has attracted wide interest and support.

It followed a government decision not to establish additional regional municipalities which now encompass 80 per cent of the Ontario population.

Future restructuring, the minister said, will have to be initiated by counties, including any separated cities or towns within their borders.

Fair Board meeting

Minden Agricultural Society held a meeting on April 29th and it seems at every meeting new ideas are produced with gratifying results. A new feature for this year's fair will be races for the children in the afternoon and a committee has been formed to take charge of this children's event. Looking toward a Centennial Theme are the Church exhibits which will be called Centennial Remembrances with all items to be over 50 years old, also a Backdrop Marking the Centennial Theme. If any churches are interested and haven't received their information please contact Mrs. Marjorie Bird, R.R. #2, Minden, K0M 2K0 and she will see that you receive the list of items to be used.

If anyone has any old pictures of Minden's Fair in years past, the Fair Board would like to borrow these, also as part of the Centennial. The Board is conducting Big Shows in Show Bldg., on all in all, it promises to be a realising fair to celebrate this our Centennial County of Haliburton Year. So don't forget to keep the dates, Aug. 24 & 25 open and come to the fair.

The Ontario Provincial Police are seeking assistance with their investigation of a criminal offence.

Passengers travelling by the 9:00 a.m. Voyageur Colonial bus from Toronto to Peterborough and the 11:00 a.m. bus from Peterborough to Toronto on Thursday, December 6, 1973, may have information vital to this inquiry. They are asked to telephone any local Ontario Provincial Police detachment.

Laughter then amazement

UFO's

A skeptical Norland father and fisherman switched abruptly from derisive laughter to shocked amazement three weeks ago when a UFO sighting claimed by his son before his own eyes.

Norland service manager Jim Boyce and Progress UFO specialist Peter Sweet that he and a fishing pal were out small fishing near Norland with their sons when a series of sightings occurred. According to Mr. Boyce he laughed at his companions' report of a UFO they spotted while he was at his car. Moments later four more appeared for the whole party to see.

"It was about 8 p.m. and dark," recalled Mr. Boyce. "They came from the west and were quite high up." Mr. Boyce said they appeared as bluish lights turning to orange and could have been shooting stars if it hadn't been for their erratic, zig-zag movements. "One even hovered for a while," reported Mr. Boyce who said the objects were never close enough to pick out details. "After about a half-hour they all moved off at an incredible speed," he said. A similar UFO was spotted by a Minden smelting party at Kumbog Lake about mid-April. According to Stephen Barnes, 18, he and his three companions saw a fast-travelling, bright light cut across the sky in front of them shortly after dark.

HERE and THERE with NORM MAIDENS

For some time now I have been quite concerned because I have been getting nothing but compliments on my column—I asked the Editor and owner Bill Foote—"Bill," I queried, "what is it I'm not doing wrong?—not since the 'Coffee Caper' some ago when Fenwick Finch stirred everyone and his brother about the price of coffee—nothing. —Why?"

I may have just gotten an answer, maybe there is a message here for me. It concerned part of last week's column—I received a long distance call objecting to my little squib and calling it 'disgusting'. I pointed out to the lady she was entitled to her opinion and I to mine.

The caller was a woman of action—shortly after calling me she called the Progress office and cancelled her subscription which ain't goin' to make Mr. Foote happy when he comes home and finds out what happened.

I'm sorry to lose a reader, I really am—I don't have that many and I feel that by cancelling their subscription over such a matter is not good business—I'm sure if my good friend cooled down a little she'd see my point and hang onto her subscription—I've been told before, "no-one is perfect"—me least of all. This is not a retraction, nor an apology, I still feel the same way I did when I wrote the column in answer to many letters. I have my opinion, you have yours,—sit down and write a letter to "The Editor" when I rub a sore spot—then everyone will know how you feel—I would be much happier if this was done.

While I'm in the red-faced department let me tell you what happened last Saturday in front of the Drug Mart. I drive a fairly beat-up Valiant—Bronze with white top—not too many around. I parked the car in front of the Drug Mart and went in and got enough prescriptions filled to keep Brother Courtney in action for another week or so. I came out, got into my car, and couldn't get it started—the key seemed to be jammed in the ignition, it wouldn't turn. I'm getting a bit edgy when about six feet of tanned, blonde, very much female, leaned into the driver's side of the car and asked, "You having trouble getting it going?"

Now, my opinion of women drivers is fairly well-known, they should be seen and not heard from. But, when you're as short as I am and you're faced with about six feet of tanned woman—you do what's best—you listen. "Yep, I grumbled, "the key seems to be stuck in the ignition." "Why don't you try these," she offered as she handed me a set of keys.

"What good is that going to do?" I asked.

"Well," she said, "they've been starting this car for over two years so reason why they shouldn't work now!—after all, it is my car." And sure enough it was, my car was parked right behind hers. I offered to buy her a cup of coffee to prove I wasn't all bad but—like my friend that cancelled her subscription, she wasn't having any part of me. Ah well, you can't win 'em all—guess a little hair dye to cover up the grey might help—but then what's the use of makin' up to women anyway? My memory got so bad lately I keep forgettin' what for?

The way things are going I'd better throw in a joke here—maybe it'll cheer Bill Foote up a little.

With all the violence going on this story might be appropriate.

The bank robbers arrived just before closing time and ordered the tellers, clerks and guards to disrobe and lie face down, behind the counter. One nervous blonde pulled off her clothes gingerly and lay down on the floor facing upwards.

"Turn over, Arabella," whispered the lying down beside her, "this is a hold-up not the office party."

Fenwick Finch once told me that the greatest thing in life wasn't money or success etcetera, etcetera but the only thing that mattered was "To love and be loved in return." That sounded odd coming from a character like the Finch—but, the more I think of it, the more I gotta buy it. Reading Peter Sweet's articles about 'flying saucers' made me remember the story of the two female Martians who landed at the Friendly Man from Esso's station. They were admiring one of the gas pumps, remarking about his height, the brightness of his eyes (lights) etc. They were quite impressed about the inhabitants of Earth, as they walked around the pump one said, "It must be a male, and, if so he's quite a guy."

At the start I said everyone is entitled to their opinion and it's quite true. There are two sides to every question or situation. But, it's also true there are two sides to a sheet of fly paper, and, it makes a big difference which side the fly chooses.

That probably doesn't make too much sense but it helped fill in this last little bit of space.

Drive carefully, your life is valuable, it may have taken years and bags of money to bring you to where you are today. Thirty seconds can wipe that all out in a stupid highway accident and you end up with nothing but a box and about 60 cubic feet of ground. How much better to be careful and enjoy what we have in the whole country!

UFO'SBEYOND REASON

by

PETER G. SWEET

(For some six months now the almost nightly sightings of unidentified flying objects in the skies of Haliburton County have aroused the curiosity of not only area residents but countless Progress readers across North America.

Mr. Sweet has been a student of UFO's and other unexplained phenomena for the past 25 years, gathering both published and unpublished data and attending lectures..ed)

SHOOTING AT UFO's ...CASE HISTORIES

(FOURTH IN A SERIES)

In doing research for this article, I found the results quite surprising. There are many instances of people shooting at UFOs. Here are a few of them.

December of 1954, a teacher and director of an educational institute in Barquisimeto, Venezuela, was pursued by a disc shaped object while driving along the Highway to Guanare. The object moved toward him and was of an immense size. Panic stricken, the Professor fired a revolver he carried with him, at the pursuing object. The bullet didn't seem to bother the object. Pushing on the accelerator, he sped off and luckily met a policeman, and a sheriff travelling in the opposite direction. Both cars returned to the scene of the incident in time to see the object speed off into the southern sky, leaving a bluish trail behind it.

In Russia, during the summer of 1961, a "mother ship" and a group of smaller saucers appeared to be observing the construction of new rocket batteries being set up as part of Moscow's defensive network. A nervous Commander ordered (unauthorized) a rocket salvo fired at the huge ship. Missing the target, he ordered a second salvo to be fired. Again off target, he readied a third which was not fired. At this point, the smaller saucers descended closer and all electrical power, needed to supply the battery, failed and no further action could be taken.

At Isola, in Northern Italy, on November 14, 1954, a rabbit farmer watched in amazement as a cigar-shaped craft landed on his farm. Out of the machine came three small dwarfish beings, dressed in what appeared to be metallic diving suits. Their interest was centered on the rabbit cages. He raised the rifle he was carrying and tried to shoot at them but it would not fire. It became so heavy in his hands that he had to drop it. The dwarfs, making strange noises amongst themselves, loaded his rabbits in their craft and took off soundlessly.

During this the farmer stood paralyzed and could not move or speak. He experienced a "tingling" sensation as is experienced in mild electric shock. There were no lasting effects of this condition.

During May 1964, a UFO kept reappearing night after night, near the village of Rio Vista, California. It was cigar shaped, about 5 feet wide and 15 feet long.

On one of these nights, some boys reported to the sheriff that they had shot at it with a twenty-two rifle. As the bullets hit, they could hear a "metallic twang". With each succeeding shot the object got progressively redder, as if it could sense it was being shot at.

Michael Camadore, 24, of National City, Colorado stated in a police report: About seventeen miles west of St. George, on Route US 91, at 1:43 a.m., as he was driving he heard a strange, loud humming sound. He thought it was a truck trying to pass him but could not see any lights in the rear-view mirror.

All of a sudden, in front of the car, he saw, glowing in the night, a circular UFO with a dome-shaped top. Pulling over to the side of the road, he grabbed his 25 calibre pistol, placed a clip in it, got out of the car and emptied the gun at the hovering object. "I heard the bullets ricochet," he said, "so I know it was solid."

EDITORIAL

Vankoughnet Road

The most direct link between the Muskokas and Haliburton Highlands is the Vankoughnet Road, and for most of its length it's a delight to drive one of the province's more outstanding scenic routes. This holds true from Highway 35 to the Muskoka District boundary, where it becomes one of the worst and most dangerous stretches of highway in Ontario.

Muskoka doesn't have the money to complete it. The Province does and should use it immediately to bring the western segment of the road up to the standard of the Haliburton section.

Labor Disputes

The Canadian pundits say 1974 will in all likelihood be one of our worst years yet for labor disputes, strikes and consequently curtailment of goods and services. Indications so far would seem to support this observation. What seems to be at the root of it is the burden imposed on virtually everyone by last year's phenomenal and frightening increase in the cost of living.

A strong hand is needed in Ottawa, and soon, before the whole affair gets any more out of hand.

Good Advice

Willis McNelly's remarks two weeks ago, first to our Chamber of Commerce' small business seminar then the Minden Rotary Club, merit the thoughtful consideration of every Highland businessman and woman.

His theme: to garner our fair share of the tourist dollar in what has become a tremendously competitive, big, big industry.

We must rid the countryside of scenic eyesores, upgrade our services, accommodations, food, activities, and above all, make sure that employers and employees alike offer tourists a warm, friendly, courteous and helpful welcome.

As a former award winning executive in North America's accommodations and tourist field, Mr. McNelly certainly knows what he is talking about.

Let's hope we in the Haliburton Highlands know enough to heed his advice.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

April 30, 1974

The Editor,
The Progress,
Minden, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

The land speculation tax recently tabled at Queen's Park is cruel legislation which heavily penalizes thousands of rural land owning Ontario residents whom I suspect have no idea that they are being acted against. When the law is passed, these people will find they are subject to a tax of 50% on their lands when sold. The tax will be in addition to any capital gains tax they have to pay the Federal Government. All of this amounts to expropriation of lands with little compensation.

The following is a partial list of properties which are taxable:

1) All lands owned by rural residents, unless the property is smaller than ten acres and is lived on. If it is lived on and greater than ten acres then it becomes taxable.

2) With few exceptions all rural income producing properties which are not a place of residence.

The tax is unfair to farmers, lumbermen and other rural people who have worked all their lives on their lands and have their life savings tied up in this asset. You really have to stretch the imagination far to classify them as land speculators, as the title of the bill suggests.

The government has stated that they intend on driving the price of real estate down by passing the land speculation tax and another tax of 20% if a rural resident sells any of his property to a foreigner. This, of course, will enable the government to buy rural lands at cheap prices. They have also conveniently worded the legislation to read that if land is sold to the Crown instead of private persons, the tax will not be payable. The government will now be in a position to force the farmer or lumberman to sell his land to them. Land speculation and skyrocketing house prices are strictly a city problem. This is being the case, why should the farmer and the rural resident have to suffer because of the situation in the big cities and surrounding areas? It is unfair to harass country people with this legislation. These laws should only cover certain cities and towns and not the whole province.

Yours truly,

Marvin Lee,
140 Erskine Avenue,
Apt. 2818,
Toronto, Ontario.

April 30, 1974

Mr. Larry Perrott,
Secretary Manager,
Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Inc.,
Minden, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Perrott:
I've had an opportunity to discuss your letter of April 10 with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications concerning the possible removal of the Haliburton Highlands Tourist Region signs at entry points into Haliburton County.

We had thought that the new Travel Associations might preclude any need for the tourist region signs. Further, we did not realize that the Haliburton Highlands paid a part of the cost of maintenance of these signs. We fully understand your desire to maintain identity and, certainly, the Highlands of Haliburton is a well known tourism name.

If the Central Ontario Travel Association moves ahead, and I believe it will, I'd like further discussions with you on the matter of the signs but I believe I can assure you, either way, you will be able to maintain the signs should you wish it.

Sincerely,

Frederick J. Boyer
Executive Director
Division of Tourism.

DOJARS & GOOD SENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Nearly three years ago the National Institute for Consumer Justice (NICJ) was formed in Washington to study the problems facing consumers who suffer economic loss by purchasing defective or misrepresented goods or services. In all, 40 recommendations were recently made, including the availability of a small claims court as part of the regular court system to provide all consumers with speedy, inexpensive and understandable justice. The court, said NICJ, should be located in urban neighborhoods, open on evenings and weekends and have the power to order repairs, repeal a sale or contract and take other action to resolve a dispute.

It also felt that all states should adopt a uniform arbitration act, and that arbitration should be considered as a means of settling disputes when negotiation or mediation fail.

Above all, NICJ said that consumer complaints should be handled in a swift, personalized, courteous and effective manner. Treated as a prime concern of all businesses. It also urged more money back policies.

Fortunately, most businesses already treat consumers fairly, but for the others the day is coming when they may be forced to treat their customers properly.

The complete NICJ report is available for 50¢ from the National Consumer Law Center, Inc., One Court St., Boston, MA, 02108.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875, London, Ontario.

ANTI-PROFITEERING BILL

A bill to control profiteering was introduced in the House of Commons by the Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Herb Gray. The bill would give the Cabinet powers to freeze prices, order rollbacks and force companies to pay back "unjustified" profits.

Mr. Gray said the bill is a fulfillment of the Prime Minister's promise that the Government "will not allow corporate profiteers and gougers to pile up unearned windfall profits at the expense of the people of Canada."

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN

The unemployment rate in Canada, seasonally adjusted, dropped to 5.4% in March from 5.5% recorded in February, reported Statistics Canada.

INDIAN LIET-GOV.

Prime Minister Trudeau announced that Ralph Steinhauer, farmer and Indian leader, has been named Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta - the first Indian ever appointed lieutenant-governor in Canada.

MORE MONEY TO FARMERS

Cash income to farmers increased by 52% in the first two months of this year as compared with the same period last year - to $1,446 million from $954 million.

Since he became federal Minister of Agriculture 18 months ago, Eugene Whelan has expressed the need for increased income for farmers, particularly to spur them to increase food production.

Fly-catching attachment

Warm weather, always welcome after a long cold winter, brings with it some unwelcome guests, - flies and still more flies. To help combat this insect menace Neil H. Thibault of Highland Michigan, U.S.A., has devised a new fly-catching attachment for vacuum cleaners. The novel nozzle structure of his invention is disclosed in a Canadian Patent granted on March 12, 1974.

HALL'S LAKE NEWS

by Doreen Stinson

The ice went out of Hall's Lake on Monday, April 29th officially. Mrs. Della Archer won the Ice Derby which Club 35 ran.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hedley of Toronto were week-end guests of Miss Marjorie Johnson.

Mr. Hart is visiting in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. William Small.

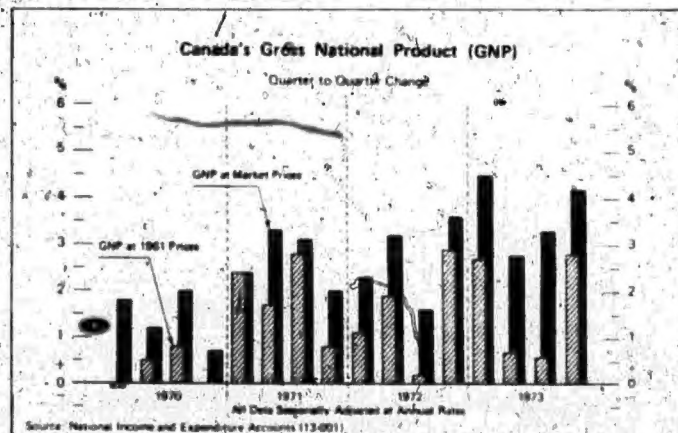

Mr. and Mrs. William Gartshore attended the official opening of the new Fish Ladder at Port Hope last Saturday. This project is a 'first' and one on which Mr. Gartshore has been working for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. William Gartshore spent a pleasant evening at the home of Miss Marjorie Johnson recently. Pictures of her life in Ethiopia were most interesting and game contests and conversation along with a delicious lunch rounded out a lovely evening.

The Guild of St. Stephen's Church recently held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Jean Wheeler on Kushog Lake. Unfortunately, the Centennial Project planned for Hall's Lake has been discouraged by the Department of Transportation and Communications due to lack of parking facilities. The Committee discussed alternatives and have decided to drop the 'Settler's Cottage' idea in favour of a combined effort with Club 35 in the form of a Wine and Cheese Party, details of which will be announced and advertised at an early date. Out of 700 letters the Committee distributed only 10 calls came in for donations or offers to help man the Cottage, so perhaps with the lack of enthusiasm it is just as well we are not going through with our original idea. However, there are plenty of other projects going on around the County and we should certainly try to attend and back them up in any way we can. On July 4th the Auxiliary of the Hyland Crest has been asked to assist at their 'Gay Nineties' evening by setting up and running a refreshment booth in the form of a Country Store or Ice Cream Parlor or some idea like that, so if you wish to help in this regard we know your services and ideas will be welcome. Costumes for Centennial will be an added attraction and a lot of work and thought is being given this venture. The Committee thanks those who telephoned in, regarding the loan of dishes, clothing, furniture and pioneer implements, who were willing to be on duty during the months, May 25th at Ontario Place also. A great Day for Haliburton and we know a lot of people have been working on this project. Mrs. Rawlins has been especially busy making a large Haliburton Highlands Crest out of satin ribbons which will be the back-drop for the Centennial Choir whenever it performs during the coming months. It is a beautiful creation and we trust everyone will manage to see it.

Driving home from Huntsville Sunday evening we faced a blinding snow storm. It was hard to realize that it was the first Sunday in May.

PLANNING AND THE PUBLIC: Ontario Hydro's commitment to involving the public in planning for the future was strongly evident in 1973. An 81-acre park and wildlife sanctuary (top centre) created by Hydro at the Pickering nuclear station was given to the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority in September. Residents in an area where a transmission line is proposed (right) play a role in the route selection process which includes public meetings (bottom). Tours of generating stations (top left) are popular with school groups and service organizations. Data Acquisition Computer System (DACS) helps provide Ontario with a steady supply of power by scanning 84 major generating, transformer, and switching stations by computer every two seconds (centre).

Freezing meat

The freezer is not a magic box into which you can pop fresh store-wrapped meat and expect it to taste fresh and be tender when cooked. To maintain fresh quality meat in the freezer, protect it and your meat dollar-by always wrapping meat carefully before freezing.

The wrapping on fresh meat is to protect it against over-handling. However, this type of wrapping lets the fresh meat 'breathe,' so that it is unsuited to long-term freezing in very cold and dry air. Freezer air would pull moisture from improperly wrapped meat and leave you with a dry, tasteless and tough product.

Before popping it in the freezer, unwrap the meat, then wrap it in heavy-duty aluminum foil or durable plastic freezer bags (the ones without the seams). Press out the air and seal tightly with twister and freezer tape when using bags, or with freezer tape when using foil. Air left in a package or entering the package causes oxidative changes. These changes result in off-flavors and off-odors, so it is important to seal the wrap tightly around the product, then fasten the package so air cannot enter. Label the contents as to type of meat, quantity and date that it was frozen.

Before freezing, check the temperature and make sure the freezer registers below 0°. Any temperature above 0° will give you a hard product, but not necessarily a rosen one.

Report from Parliament

by WILLIAM SCOTT M.P.

The possibility that a federal general election might be called before the end of the Summer is greater now than at any time since the last general election, and the minority Liberal government in Ottawa appears to be ready to back down again in the face of threats from the N.D.P. that they will withdraw their support and topple the government. A few days ago the N.D.P. leader in the house said that his party was ready to vote with the Conservative Opposition on the government's anti-profiteering legislation, thus forcing an election. However, only time will tell whether or not the latest N.D.P. threat is cut from the same cloth as its previous threats. In any case, one of two things will happen in the next few days. On the one hand, the government might lose the first vote in this week's budget debates, and in that case the House will have been dissolved by the time this column gets into print. Or, the N.D.P. will back down again, and we could then go on from day to day, as we have been doing for the past sixteen months. While the members of Parliament, and people in general speculate on when the election will come, Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde continues to use the House of Commons to try to build himself into a national figure. A couple of weeks ago it was football, and this week it is a document on the health of Canadians. The general health and the physical well-being of Canadians is a very serious matter and one in which each of us has more than just passing interest. I cannot quarrel with the theme of the minister's document, but I can and do take issue with the content of the paper and in the way it has been presented. A working document tabled in the House of Commons by the Government is a very important move, because it is designed to indicate that the government plans to table legislation dealing with the subject of the paper. However, when Mr. Lalonde's document is examined, it is hard to imagine how any legislation can flow from it. For instance, throughout the paper there are statements like, "It is better to be slim than fat", or, "It is better not to smoke cigarettes". We are all aware that slimmness is associated with fitness, but it doesn't necessarily follow. My first reaction to these statements was that the government would do better to ensure that Canadians could afford to eat the proper foods, in adequate amounts, if they are concerned about the health of Canadians. Elsewhere in the document is the phrase "Tranquility is better than excess stress." No one can quarrel with that. But here again I would suggest that the best way to relieve excess stress in the minds of our people would be for the government to bring inflation under control. And, excess stress among the unemployed could be eased if the government would get the economy moving, encourage business and industrial expansion, and thereby provide new jobs.

MINDEN PROGRESS Thurs., May 9, 1974 Page 7
When I read the phrase "Alcohol is a danger to health, particularly when driving a car", I have to check to make sure that this is a serious government document that I'm reading from. This is the type of thing that elementary school children write, and when it comes from them I accept it in good faith. When it appears in a working paper tabled in the House of Commons, I have to wonder if it is intended as a put-on. The minister would do well to direct more funds into medical research in Canada, to ensure that the elderly and disabled are properly cared for, and to urge his cabinet colleagues to restore the buying power of the Canadian dollar. Football debates and petty working papers might be good image builders, but they don't do much for the Canadian public.

Clergyman-writer documents Scarboro's past

BY JANICE McDONALD

There is a far away look in his eyes as he recalls the past - his historical past. In fact, some of Scarborough's early white settlers have nothing over the man who told their story.

Rev. Robert R. Bonis, author of 'A History of Scarborough', lived in an old log cabin that was warmed by a wood burning stove lighted by oil lamps and having no indoor running water.

He got around by horse and cutter and wore a bearskin coat and fur hat during the rough days of winter. In the spring the rain-washed dirt roads posed transportation problems.

Bonis' period of early-settler existence lasted seven and a half years when he chose Haliburton County as his first ministerial post after the seminary. He could have asked for a cushy-city post but the adventure of going north appealed to him.

That was in 1931, 34 years before publication of his 382 page book that is now recognized as the 'Bible' of Scarborough history.

His log cabin was in Minden which is about 115 miles north of Toronto. He was pastor of a church there, as well as one in Gelert, about seven miles away.

The population of Minden was about 300, about the same as Scarborough in 1810.

A power plant was built before he left for a post in the borough and Minden got electricity.

"It makes for a more interesting life if you start with a few hardships," the Anglican minister said.

"Some of the first people who came out to settle in Scarborough had a great spirit of adventure you know. But there was a terrific amount of hardship and hard work."

Presently, Rev. Bonis is assistant pastor at St. Timothy's Church, 4125 Sheppard Ave. He was overseer of three churches when he first came to Scarborough in 1938.

He lived in the old rectory at West Hill's St. Margaret's-In-The-Pines Anglican Church, 4130 Lawrence W. and shared his time between St. Margaret's Christ Church, 155 Markham Rd., and St. Simon's Church, 239 Morris.

Scarborough was almost totally rural, except in the southwest corner of the township and had a population of 25,000 in 1938.

Bonis retired as a full time minister in 1957. At that time he was pastor of St. Margaret's.

The Anglican minister, his wife and their family of five children moved into their present Highland Creek home.

The house had been purchased in 1946 for a church assistant and his wife. "At that time it was difficult to find a house to rent or buy," says Bonis.

Rev. Bonis had become involved with the new Scarborough Public Library Board before his retirement. He was one of Scarborough's first paid full-time librarians. His book, 'A History of Scarborough', was a project he worked on as a library assignment.

He had majored in English, history and the classics on his way to a BA degree at the University of Toronto before he entered the seminary. Scarborough's history was a point of natural interest for him.

In 1946 this interest developed when he wrote a historical sketch to mark the 100th anniversary of Christ Church.

He did another historical sketch in 1953 on St. Margaret's for the church's 129th anniversary celebration.

It was from these, plus dozens of books, manuscripts, and other works, that Bonis compiled his book.

After three years of concentration work, the book was published in 1965 by Scarborough library.

The book contains 290 photographs, maps and drawings. It has been reprinted four times and is now available in paperback editions at all borough libraries and book stores.

Retired from the library two years ago, the clergyman-writer still gives lectures on Scarborough's history mainly at schools to groups of children who sit and listen to the man whose success has far exceeded his own expectations.

Backpack

Robert N. Waldon of Winnipeg, Manitoba, has devised a new back pack of interest to hikers and canoeists. Mr. Waldon claims that his novel design permits access to the contents in any area of the pack without disturbing the rest of the contents. The size of the pack can also be adjusted to eliminate shifting of the contents. A Canadian Patent granted on March 19, 1974 covers Mr. Waldon's invention.

if you drive after drinking...

...then here are some things to consider

Let's say you've stayed a little longer than you expected at a party - long enough to have 3 or 4 drinks. All in good fun. All in good fellowship. And then you have to drive home.

Section 234, Criminal Code of Canada - Impaired driving is an offense even if the driver's blood alcohol is less than 0.08.

Penalty. First offense - Fine of not more than $500 or less than $50 or jail for 3 months or both. Second offense - Jail for not more than 3 months, not less than 14 days. Subsequent offenses - Jail for not more than 1 year but not less than 3 months.

Section 235 - (1) Breath tests for blood alcohol are compulsory. (2) It is an offense to refuse to take a breathalyzer test for blood alcohol when such a test is demanded by a peace officer.

Penalty - On summary conviction only. A fine of not more than $1,000 or less than $50 or jail for not more than 6 months, or both.

And there's more

Section 236 - It is an offense to drink if driver's blood alcohol exceeds 0.08. Penalty - Same as for Section 235. It isn't just the appearance before the judge that's humiliating. The penalties for impaired driving can range from those provided in the Criminal Code of Canada - which include fine, imprisonment or both, and loss of driver's licence - to the possible loss of insurance, higher annual insurance rates, loss of job, even social disgrace. Even if you have never had a playing ticket you could end up having your licence suspended for a month - or 3 months, or even indefinitely. Your name will also probably appear in the newspaper for all your friends and business associates to see. Alcohol is involved in approximately half of the more than 5,000 traffic deaths in Canada each year.

The Social Drinker is one of the leading causes of automobile accidents. Either as a guest or a host, you have a responsibility to yourself and others - including other people on the road.

HOW TO PREVENT IMPAIRMENT

Coffee will not work. Nor will a cold shower. They will only make you feel awake, tired or cold, not sober. Only TIME will work. It takes more than an hour to eliminate each 12 ounces of beer or ounce and a half of spirits or three ounces of non-fermented wine. If you MUST drive then adopt the Canada Safety Council rule of thumb: HAVE LESS THAN ONE DRINK PER HOUR.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Opts for fluoridation

The Board of Health of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit has recommended the fluoridation of all municipal water supplies in the four counties. The resolution, encompassed in the Unit's Quarterly Report, recommends fluoridation as 'the most effective public health measure presently available for reducing safely and economically the incidence of dental decay' and says fluoridation can reduce tooth decay by up to 66 per cent for those children using it.

Although some 70 per cent of the population of municipal water supplies in Ontario presently receives fluoridated water, none has as yet been provided to residents of our four counties, according to the text of the resolution.

Elsewhere in the Unit's report a dental survey of Haliburton school children from kindergarten to Grade 8 shows a remarkable increase in the number with no tooth decay. While only 14.6 per cent had no evidence of tooth decay in the period 1970-71, this figure has risen to 50.2 per cent for the period 1973-74. Detailed results of the survey are as follows:

SAUSAGE SORCERY

April showers don't have to dampen spirits for nutritious and appetizing meals. Pack a little sunshine in the lunchbox with some new sandwich ideas. For example, spread pumpernickel bread with cream cheese, add slices of pepperoni and lettuce. Or spread whole wheat bread with a mixture of pickle relish, chopped hard cooked egg and salad dressing. Add a slice or two of luncheon loaf and cut into triangles.

Tonight, serve a Winner and Baked Bean Casserole, with broiled tomato halves and an apple crisp. While they bake, set the table and toss a salad. Then ring the dinner bell.

If you are having your own personal energy crisis, you may need more iron in your diet. Braunschweiler is a good source of this nutrient, needed especially by teenage boys and girls, and women throughout the child-bearing years. Have a braunschweiler sandwich for lunch and help yourself to extra iron.

A good oven dish is this Frankly Great Casserole. Combine 3 cups cooked rice with a one-pound can of mixed vegetables, drained. Stir in a cup of grated cheddar cheese and a 10 1/2-ounce can of condensed tomato soup. Turn into a greased 3-quart casserole and top with a pound of sliced wieners. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Potatoes and luncheon are good partners. Try Bologna Cakes. Four servings require 2 cups of mashed potatoes, then form into 4 patties 1/2-inch thick. Place each patty on a slice of bologna. With wooden picks, fasten the bologna slices together at the edges. Brush with melted butter and bake in a shallow pan at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. You can be sure they'll be a hit with the family.

Copies of "Sausage Sorcery", a recipe booklet prepared by Union Carbide Canada Limited, may be obtained by writing Family Food Counsellor, Suite 300, 101 Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5S 1P7.

Hyland Crest visitor

SISTER MARIE LALEMAN
VISITS HYLAND CREST

by Doreen Stinson

Monday April 29th was a special day for the Hyland Crest Auxiliary. Sister Marie Laleman from Marian Villa, London, Ontario, the president of the Provincial Auxiliary of the Ontario Association of the Homes for the aged, spent the day with us and attended our meeting in the evening.

In the morning Sister Laleman joined in the Fun and Fitness program with the residents and in the afternoon in the Craft program. As crafts is the Sister's specialty this really interested her. After watching us for awhile and getting some ideas from us she then opened her bag of tricks and showed us several things that our residents might like to make. There was a cute little mouse made from marbles and another mouse made from styrofoam balls and dressed up. You would need to see them to really appreciate them.

In the evening, as Sister Laleman was showing slides of her work at Marian Villa, several of the residents joined us for our meeting. The slides and the demonstration of how to make a Christmas tree from styrofoam meat trays as well as her brief talk were very much appreciated. Business was kept to a minimum. Representatives to go to the annual Regional meeting May 15th at Sheridan, Villa in Mississauga were selected and some arrangements were made for our part in the 'Gay Nineties' Night to be held at the Home on July 4th. Sister Laleman was presented with a cushion made in the Craft room as a token of our appreciation.

The meeting closed with the serving of tea provided by the Home and some of those delicious donuts that only Len Stinson can make.

Special thanks go to Lorne and Grace Coburn for so graciously providing accommodation for our guest.

MOTHER'S LOVE

A Mother's love is always true,
She always looks for the best in you,
Forgives you when you go astray
God makes a Mother's love that way.
A Mother's love is always true,
Where'er you go she thinks of you,
A welcome waits for your return,
The plans you make, she'll gladly learn.
When your best friends have proved untrue,
That Mother's love you always knew
Will help to drive away your fears,
You'll see her smiling through her tears.
There is one day of all the year,
You can remember Mother dear,
Send her a card, do not delay,
She may not be here another day.
The flowers you bring her when she's gone
May help to cheer those looking on,
But the card or flowers you send today,
Will be memory's garden, live always.

Hydro seeks rate Indian named hike Alberta Lieut. Gov.

Ontario Hydro has submitted its application to the Minister of Energy for an increase in wholesale power rates for 1975. The application will be reviewed by the Ontario Energy Board in public hearings beginning June 10. The new rates would mean increases of about 15 per cent for 1975 to municipal utilities, who buy in bulk from Ontario Hydro and in turn supply the majority of Ontario's 2.5 million users. Annual increases of 10 to 15 per cent are anticipated to be necessary through the 1975-79 five year period.

For large industrial users served directly by Ontario Hydro, an increase of about 16 per cent is proposed for 1975. This rate also provides for recovery, over a five year period, of deficits outstanding against the direct industrial customers at the end of 1973.

The rates for some 680,000 rural customers, who receive power directly from Ontario Hydro, will be announced later.

A 68 year old Indian, who's grandfather came from the riding of Victoria-Haliburton, is Alberta's new Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Ralph Steinbauer, a former chief of the Kainai Lake Indian Band near St. Paul Alberta, is the first Indian to hold such a post in Canada. Mr. Steinbauer's grandfather, Henry Steinbauer, a famous missionary, was an Ojibway Indian from the Ram Reserve near Orillia. The new Lieutenant-Governor, who was appointed to the Order of Canada in 1967, will assume his duties at the end of June.

TODAY'S HEALTH

Nursing Homes Are Brighter Places Now

by David Woods

Advances in medicine are helping people to live longer. Ontario has more than 600,000 people in the over-65 age group — and the number is increasing rapidly. Some estimates suggest that by the year 2000, the over-60 group will represent the majority of our population. (So if you're over 34 now, start thinking!)

Our youth-worshipping society tends to dismiss or ignore the aged, perhaps as living reminders of our own mortality, and because of life's accelerating pace and modern learning's rapid obsolescence, age is no longer associated with wisdom.

Not only that, but our ever-greater mobility often results in the older generation getting left behind. It's exceptional today to see two or more adult generations of a family living under the same roof.

Some, of course, are able to stay at home and to look after their own needs. Others require assistance — a lot or a little. For those who are healthy there are Homes for the Aged, or the Ontario Ministry of Health's Home Care program, which offers visits from nurses or help with minor difficulties.

For those who require regular daily nursing care, Ontario's 417 nursing homes represent an alternative to being hospitalized. And today's nursing homes are much more than simply repositories for the elderly.

There seems to be a growing awareness that older people have emotional and recreational needs as well as physical ones — and that they have a claim to a retirement enriched with interests rather than stifled with solitude. Married couples are able to go on living together.

In Ontario, the term 'nursing home' can only be applied to those institutions licensed under the Nursing Homes Act (April 1972). To qualify for admission you have to need at least 15 hours of nursing and personal care daily (though not so much that hospitalization is necessary), and your doctor must complete an application for the extended care benefits covered by OHIP. Incidentally, these benefits only apply if you have been living in Ontario for at least the past year.

A minimum of 75 per cent of Ontario's 23,000 nursing home beds come under the program. An up-to-date list of nursing home addresses can be obtained from the Ministry of Health, Nursing Home Inspection, RR0 Bay Street, Toronto M5S 1Z8.

There are waiting lists for admission at many nursing homes, and, once you're in, eligibility to stay is reassessed at six-month intervals. Health insurance (OHIP) pays $10.50 a day for each resident. The individual contributes from $4.50 a day (for standard ward accommodation) up to $11.50 a day (for a private or semi-private room), depending on the type of accommodation chosen.

In seeking a nursing home, consider its location and surroundings, its medical, nursing and recreational facilities — and make sure it's licensed by the Ontario Ministry of Health.

It's not easy to adjust to the new lifestyle of a nursing home — but the homes themselves are trying to make it less difficult. At one Toronto nursing home I visited, the 200 residents have TV lounges, regular bingo games, parties, exercise programs, a library and learning opportunities in a variety of arts and crafts.

The one-storey building is bright and colorfully decorated, and the service includes accommodation, food, laundry and recreational facilities — as well as 24-hour registered nursing care in three shifts. Nursing Home standards are subject to regular assessment for continuing licensure.

The ideal situation exists when our older people can be cared for by relatives in a family environment. The alternative, especially where there are inadequate facilities at home and no need for hospital care, is the nursing home. And the nursing home today is emphasizing the home aspect of caring for the aged as much as the nursing part.

David Woods is a former editor of Canadian Family Physician magazine. He has served on the staff of four medical publications and written for several others in Canada and internationally.

ABOUT THE TOWN

with Jeanne Sears

There is a display of Art sponsored by the International Red Cross. Paintings and drawings by school children are displayed at the local Post Office until May 15. At the close of the festival these go to Headquarters in Toronto and from there will be mailed to schools in various countries throughout the world. It is hoped that Minden Red Cross Society will receive some art work from another country and it will be displayed, at a later date of course. Congratulations to Mrs. Gordon McKay and Mrs. Roger Cooper who split the Jackpot of $250 at Rotary Bingo last Thursday night.

The weekend of May 19th there will be again Ontario White Water Slalom sponsored by Ontario Canoe and Cruisers at Horseshow Falls. For Pre-Registration send to O.C.C., Box 292, Etobicoke.

Mrs. Lorne Dawson is home again after spending a three week holiday with the Jim Dawsons of Ottawa.

Bus Trips are the order of the day as High School Students have visited Toronto, Ottawa and Dorset.

At the L.O.B.A. Card Party last Monday night at the Orange Hall winners were for euchre, high and lone hands Greta Alsop, Pearl Cowan, Bert Hounsell and Bill Hounsell; for cribbage Loyne Cox and Joyce Hewitt. After the games all enjoyed a social half hour and the delicious lunch served by the ladies.

Mac and Hilda McCarey have returned home from a three weeks' visit in Binghamton, N.Y. While there they attended the Spring Concert put on by Binghamton Symphony and Choral Society of which Cairine is a member.

Congratulations are extended to Bradley Robinson who successfully completed his first year at Western University London, and passed with honours.

One of the sportsmen of our village, Larry Cummins, was successful in landing a 9 pound trout from the waters of Boshkung Lake, one day last week.

Did you know that if you write the name of a young hockey player on your IGA tapes or label that youngster might have his name drawn for a term at Hockey School. The ballott box is at the front of the store.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Mrs. Fred Snell and Kim Walker whose funerals were early this week.

All their friends send good wishes to these persons in hospitals; Leslie Prentice at St. Josephs, Peterborough, Walter Harrison, Ross Memorial and Roy Little in the local hospital.

There was a roast beef dinner for the Broomball Teams at Hospitality Inn on Saturday, with some fifty persons present with a social hour before the dinner.

Mrs. Allan Taylor and Murray Taylor visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills and family of Orillia and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Taylor and family at Stroud one day last week. Weekend guests with Mrs. A.S. Kernohan were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parrish and family of Scarborough.

John Scott of Searchmont and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ayotte of Sault Ste. Marie are visiting friends in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter visited on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Coulter of Kirkfield.

Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. M. Sears were Muriel Ewing, Chris and Scott and Ron Joyce of Toronto.

There must have been many shoppers in town last week, as we noticed the shelves in our grocery stores seemed to have lots of spaces. Guess everyone buys even if the costs are going up. Don't forget your list.

Last Wed. evening there was a Pot Luck Supper at St. Paul's Parish Hall for the Thursday afternoon Card Players with guests Rev. and Mrs. A. Hutchison and David. After Reverend Andy said the Grace we all enjoyed the delicious salad supper. Report was given by Treasurer Lillian David -son and she presented to Rev. Hutchison a cheque for $300 which had been taken in over the past six months from these card parties. Rev. Andy responded to our gift saying that we had carried these afternoons on for the third year and were a spiritual part of the Parish and he congratulated us on such a grand gift to the Church Funds. Gifts were presented to May Wright high for euchre, Joyce Hewitt for perfect attendance, Cora Hewitt high for cribbage (not present) and to several others. After everything was cleared away we all played cards. The ladies in charge of these games wish to thank everyone who helped in any way to make these afternoons so successful and we start again early in October.

Big surprise Sunday evening when enough snow fell to cover the ground. Heard this happened once on the 24th of May. Thought Spring was here.

Cherio until next week.

Beer Nuts

Trailing by 151 pins going into the final week of playoff action in the Commercial Men's league, the Rockcliffe Hotel Beer-nuts displayed the type of bowling that allowed them to take first place in league action.

After a mediocre 1094 in their first game, the Beer-nuts erupted for a fantastic 1380 in the second game to move from third place to first by fourteen pins over Pat's Ruffians. The Rockcliffe then held off a determined bid by the Ruffians 1143 to 1136 in the third game, to win the playoffs by twenty-one pins, 10,451 to Ruffians' 10,430. Congratulations Rockcliffe Hotel on an excellent 1973-74 bowling season.

The Haliburton Highballers finished the play-offs in third place with a pin-fall of 10,352, fourth went to Modern Electric at 10,244, fifth Ingoldisby 9,926 and sixth Cox's Colts 9,908.

Third prize of the Dave Sawyer Trophy went to Tues. Phillis Sutherland with a pinfall of 3033. High single honours went to Phillis Sutherland with a fine 296 and the Austin ESSO Trophy. High Triple honours went to Ev Statia with 698 and the Della Bros. IGA Trophy.

There was also a tournament for the first time between the bottom three teams from Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon held last week.

CENTENNIAL CORNER

FROM THE MUNICIPALITY OF THE TOWNSHIPS OF SHERBORNE, McCLINTOCK & LIVINGSTONE

The Township of Sherborne was incorporated in the year 1876 with the township of Stanhope and was known as the Townships of Stanhope and Sherborne.

In the year 1898 Sherborne withdrew from Stanhope to become the United Townships of Sherborne, McClintock, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale with the first Reeve being George I. Tuft.

It was at this time that the railway from Parry Sound in the North and Peterborough in the south was completed. Then in the year 1935 the Ontario Government in their knowledge saw fit to take Lawrence and Nightingale and to include them into Algonquin Park. It was through these townships the railway was built.

Again it was about this time that the real value of this railway was in doubt and it was slowly dismantled.

Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone is about 95% Crown Land, with no farm lands. Progress through the years has been steady, remains limited, but bright.

We are very proud to be part of the Provisional County of Haliburton in this our Centennial Year, and we hope to share our part in its future.

The present Council is comprised of Arthur L. Lock, Reeve; Douglas Russell, Deputy Reeve; and Councillors Fred Baum, Olga Cunningham and Donald Shortreed.

Dorset is the main community and an active Lyons Club and Council are planning Centennial street dances throughout the summer.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

You can tell David is a merry, sociable fellow the minute you see him. Almost five, David is happy and busy and friendly with everybody.

David has blue eyes and very blonde hair. He had a cold sore the day his picture was taken but normally his fair skin is clear and rosy. He is Anglo-Saxon in descent. David is slim, wiry and healthy, developing well physically. Mentally he is below average. He does well in daily living and is now attending a regular nursery school. However, it is felt he will need special education.

David loves school and his foster mother thinks it has been helpful. For instance, he talks much more clearly than he did.

David likes to listen to stories and to watch television, but a short attention span means he does not concentrate on either for long. He is fond of music.

A neat, tidy boy, David is concerned about how he looks. It bothers him even to have a shoelace untied.

David needs parents who will love an engaging little boy for himself and will want to help him develop as much as he can. Other children, older by at least four years, will be an asset in David's adopting family.

To inquire about adopting David, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.
